

BECOME A MEMBER OF THE FRIENDS OF BIOSPHERE EXPEDITIONS TODAY

The Friends of Biosphere Expeditions are people who feel passionate about providing continuous support to our critical wildlife conservation and research projects across the globe. By joining the Friends you can play a vital part in making a real difference to the survival of our planet's endangered species.

If you can't take part in a full-blown expedition or project yet, or if you have already been with us and would like to stay involved, or if you would simply like to be part of what we are doing, then why not become a Friend of Biosphere Expeditions today? Help us to support critical wildlife conservation and research projects across the globe for a membership fee starting from a monthly £10.

For full details on membership benefits and what we can achieve through your support, please visit www.biosphere-expeditions.org/friends.
